Introduction

odoo

Founded in Belgium in 2004, Odoo is a suite of powerful, open-source business management tools designed to improve the productivity of every employee. Odoo's ecosystem of apps work seamlessly together, offering a centralised, online, and accessible from anywhere platform to manage your business.

Odoo is available in two editions: Odoo Community & Odoo Enterprise. This guide compares the two editions to help you understand which suits your needs. In addition, we introduce you to Wedoo's Pro edition which serves as a good option for growing organisations looking for similar functionality to Odoo Enterprise but with some compromises made in order to run at a lower per user price.

Community

odoo

Odoo Community is the basic, free, and open source version of Odoo. Often referred to as DIY Odoo, this edition is good for experienced developers or Odoo technicians. Odoo Community must be self-hosted, does not upgrade with new version releases, and is therefore not recommended for users or businesses who are looking for a fully functional, easy to maintain software solution.

Enterprise

odoo

Odoo Enterprise is the licensed edition of Odoo, where for a single per user per month fee, you have access to the full suite of business applications. Enterprise regularly updates with new version releases, comes with full functionality within every application, and is easy to expand and maintain as your business grows.

FAQ

Q: What is the difference between working with Odoo directly, or working with a local Odoo partner?

A: For small businesses who require little to no customisations, working with Odoo directly is an option. However, if you live in New Zealand or another country where localisations have not yet been developed, we highly recommend working with a local Odoo Partner to ensure localised customisations are built in to your Odoo system. Having dedicated support, with experience in implementing your system, in the same time zone is also very important, and a key benefit of working with an Odoo Partner.

Q: Can I use Odoo from a mobile device?

A: Yes, you can use Odoo Enterprise from Android or iOS. Download from the Google Play Store of Apple Store and login with the same credentials you would use in your browser. However, you cannot use Odoo Community from a mobile device.

Q: Is a DIY approach to Odoo recommended?

A: Unless you have a team of developers who are experienced in using Odoo as a product, it is not recommended to use a DIY approach for your Odoo implementation. Odoo is not a 'plug and play' product. It takes time to master the installation and is hard to configure. Working with a trusted Odoo Partner with proven experience is recommended.
